

Cookie Notice

A concise record of storage and tracking used on instantsettlementpaymentgateway.com.

1. Current position

The website does not currently install advertising cookies or third-party analytics scripts. The core pages can be viewed without a cookie consent banner.

2. Essential processing

Cloudflare and the hosting stack may process limited network and security information to deliver pages, prevent abuse and protect availability. The contact form uses a one-way IP hash for short-term rate limiting in the lead database. This is server-side abuse prevention rather than an advertising profile.

3. Local browser storage

The current site does not rely on `localStorage` or `sessionStorage` for marketing or behavioural tracking. Standard browser caches may store static fonts, images, CSS and JavaScript for performance.

4. Future analytics

If optional analytics or marketing technology is added, this notice and the website consent mechanism will be updated before non-essential tracking is enabled where consent is required.

5. Browser controls and contact

You can clear cached site data through browser settings. Blocking essential security or network functions may affect availability. Questions: contact@instantsettlementpaymentgateway.com
